

THE HONORS COLLEGE AT AUBURN UNIVERSITY

This 11-day trip immerses you in Cuba's extraordinary culture, history, and social life. Our itinerary will move us from the cobble-stoned streets of Old Havana to the rich farmlands of tobacco country and the architectural gems of the island's central provinces. Along our route, we will stay with local families, visit schools and medical facilities, cook Cuban cuisine, spend the day on a farm, dance salsa, walk in Hemingway's footsteps, and engage with leaders in the fields of history, politics, economics, and the arts, to name but a few activities. Students will emerge from this trip with a uniquely personal knowledge of one of the world's most fascinating countries.

MAY 7-17, 2017

EST. COST: $3,600

INCLUDES: Round-trip air from Miami, FL, room, ground transportation, breakfast daily

SIGN UP BY: September 2016

The trip instructor, Dr. Tiffany Sippial, has over twenty years of research and travel experience in Cuba, including one year as a Fulbright-Hays scholar at the Instituto de Historia in Havana. The author of an award-winning book on Cuban history, Dr. Sippial brings both her expertise and her passion for the island and its people to this once-in-a-lifetime study abroad trip.

For info contact: Ken Thomas | kdt0011@auburn.edu

AUBURN UNIVERSITY

HONORS COLLEGE

@auburnhonors

@auburnhonors

/auburnhonors

auburn.edu/honors